Week 1
To Infinity and Beyond

June 23-27

Blast off to Infinity and Beyond, where the wonders of science and space await! This week, campers will embark on an exciting journey through the cosmos, exploring the mysteries of the universe and the science that makes it all possible. With hands-on experiments and engaging activities, we'll float through space, dodging rogue asteroids, and launch handmade rockets. Camp Claremont is launching in t-minus five... four... three... two... one! Lift off!

Week 2
Medieval Renaissance

June 30-July 4

4 DAYS
$60

Here ye, here ye! This week, we are traveling back in time to the enlightenment of the renaissance. Knights will frolic alongside unicorns and dragons, defending the land of Camp Claremont! We will be capturing the flags of enemy kingdoms, designing our own group's medieval crests, and firing canon dodgeballs across the forest! 4th of July will be closed and the price for the week will be pro-rated.

Week 3
Wildlife Wonders

July 7-11

Welcome to Wildlife Wonders, where adventure awaits! This week, campers will explore the incredible world of animals in a fun and engaging way. Through exciting activities, a hands-on animal assembly, and outdoor exploration, we'll dive into nature's mysteries together. From scavenger hunts to activities, every day will be a new opportunity to learn and discover. Join us as we celebrate the beauty of wildlife and make lasting memories with new friends.

Week 4
Claremont Heroes

July 14-18

Join us at Camp Claremont this week for an exhilarating celebration of your favorite heroes! We're thrilled to connect with our very own local champions, the Claremont Police Department! They'll be sharing their knowledge about public service and safety, while joining in on the fun with our young heroes. Don't miss out on the delicious Ice Cream Social with City Dignitaries, where treats and smiles abound. It's going to be an unforgettable week filled with inspiration, learning, and sweet moments!

Week 5
Under the Sea

July 21-25

Prepare your scuba gear! Camp is leaving behind the desert sands for the depths of the ocean. This week, we will learn all about what creatures dwell in the deep blue sea (hopefully we don't run into a kraken!) While we host a water day every week of camp, this week will be especially water-logged. We will search for buried treasure, create collages of shells and sea stones, and most importantly, splash around. Can't wait to sea you there!

Week 6
Sportacular Summer

July 28-August 1

Get set for an epic adventure during Sportacular Summer! Campers will unleash their inner athletes with a thrilling lineup of games, challenges, and team spirit. From classic sports to wild new activities, every day is packed with action and excitement! Join us for high-energy fun, new friendships, and the chance to be a champion on and off the field. Let the games begin!

Please note: Camp will be closed July 4th. • Group ages are calculated off the first day of camp. • Volunteers must go through a selection process and acceptance is not guaranteed. Fees apply. • Registration and weekly fees are not refundable.

Resident Permits

Residents of Claremont receive 6-hours of free parking by scanning your drivers license (must have your Claremont address registered with the DMV) and inputting your license plate number! It's that simple! Your license plate number will populate in our database to show that you are eligible to park. REMINDER: Residents may ONLY park in the South TCT Parking Lot.

Annual Permits

Annual permits can be purchased online using the QR code: (insert QR Code here). It's as easy as creating a profile and paying for your permit! The permitting system is based off your license plate number and will remain in the system until your permit expires or you choose to renew your annual permit. Permits will be valid for 365 days from your date of purchase!

Hourly Use Permits

Hourly parking passes may be purchased from our kiosks at the North and South Parking Lots or by scanning the QR code located near/on the parking permit meters. Ensure you have your license plate number handy because that is how we track parking permits. Simply input your license plate number, pay, and go! No more running back to your vehicle to put your permit on your dashboard! Our database lets us know if you have paid or not.

NATURE NOOK

DECK THE HALLS WITH BOUGHS OF.. TOYON?

By Dr. Nancy Hamlett, Friends of the Wilderness Park

In winter, the bright red berries of the Toyon, or “Christmas Berry,” festively deck the Wilderness Park for the season. Europeans discovered this beautiful shrub, which is native only to California and upper Baja California, in the late 1700’s. Seeds were sent to England, where it was one of the first California native plants to become a popular garden subject. In California, gathering the sprigs of berries from wild plants was so popular that the toyon’s survival was threatened, and a law passed in the 1920’s makes it illegal to pick or dig wild plants without permission.

The toyon berries are an important winter food source for some wildlife. California quail, cedar waxwings, and band-tailed pigeons all readily consume toyon berries, as do raccoons, coyotes, and bears. People have also eaten the berries, although caution is required as unripe and uncooked berries contain cyanide compounds that are poisonous to people. Native Californians, however, used the berries for food and medicine, and Spanish settlers made them into cider and pudding. Opinions on their palatability vary. One source describes the taste as “sweet and spicy”, another calls them “mealy, astringent, and acidic”, and a third says “best left to the birds.”

If you have room for its eventual 15-25’ height, the toyon is a great native plant for the home garden, especially because it tolerates a wide variety of garden conditions. Its leathery foliage is green year round, and it has white flowers in summer as well as berries in winter. Cultivars can be found with yellow berries, in addition to the more common red, and the plants are available in many nurseries.

As a reminder, the picking, collection, and/or removal of plants from the CHWP is unlawful, per Claremont Municipal Code section 11.10.110.
